Soochow University, Taipei, Taiwan Chinese Study Camp 2019

About Soochow

Missionaries of the Methodist church established Soochow University in 1900 in the city of Suzhou in China, making it China's first western-style university. When re-established in Taiwan in 1951, it became the first private university in Taiwan. As befitting its motto, "Unto A Full Grown Man", Soochow University strives to emphasize quality teaching and is determined to do its absolute best to nurture mature students with creative and practical abilities. Looking ahead, with integrated and innovative quality teaching uppermost in mind, Soochow University will establish itself as a distinguished leading institution of higher education in Taiwan.

About CLC, SCU

Founded in 2013, Chinese Language Center (CLC), Soochow University is a government-recognized center for teaching Chinese as a foreign language in northern Taiwan, offering a complete Chinese language training program. "To transmit knowledge of Chinese culture and cultivate Chinese language skills," CLC aims to provide professional programs for those who would like to explore Chinese language and Taiwanese culture.

Features

• Cultural axis of Taipei City

With cultural resources nearby, it helps us to enhance students' Chinese learning, culture, and values.

• Diverse teaching approaches

Based on students' proficiency levels, programs are conducted with placement teaching in each session.

• Studying and staying in the same place

Students stay in the place where they take courses. No need to commute and easy to travel just like home. The only one in the nation that offers this unique service.

Program Schedule

In order to help students obtain Chinese listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills and experience the beauty of Taiwan local cultures and festive attractions, CLC arranges 3-week customized study camps during students' vacations. See below for schedule:
